

major Branch meeting for British Institute of Radiology to be held in Liverpool

As a tribute to Professor Peter Armstrong, regional branches of the charity and I am delighted that they have chosen Liverpool as the venue to host their first major Branch meeting.

Around 200 delegates are expected to attend the meeting which is attracting supporters of the Institute and the radiological profession alike. The topics are focused on a multidisciplinary approach, from basic to advanced knowledge. The meeting will also include talks from Professor Armstrong".

The organising committee includes a number of Liverpool Heart and Chest

Klaus, who is the Branch Chair for the British Institute of Radiology (BIR), told LHC News "The BIR is looking to develop

Dr. Klaus Irlon (pictured) Consultant Radiologist is co-ordinating the event which will promote a multidisciplinary approach in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the chest, integrating radiology, chest medicine, thoracic surgery, infectious diseases and oncology.

Dr. Klaus Irlon (pictured) Consultant Radiologist is co-ordinating the event which will promote a multidisciplinary approach in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the chest, integrating radiology, chest medicine, thoracic surgery, infectious diseases and oncology.

Dr. Klaus Irlon (pictured) Consultant Radiologist is co-ordinating the event which will promote a multidisciplinary approach in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the chest, integrating radiology, chest medicine, thoracic surgery, infectious diseases and oncology.

professionals such as Dr. John Hollemans, Dr. Hilary Fewins, Dr. Martin Walshaw, Dr. Justine Hadcroft, Dr. Martin Ledson and Dr. Sukumaran Binukrishnan. If you would like further information on this event, which is being held at the Britannia Adelphi Hotel, please contact Dr. Klaus Irlon on 0151 600 1763 or BIR Branch Co-ordinator Chloe Scragg on 0207 307 1425.